The text is for questions 20 – 22.

It was a cold winter's night when I went to Tumble Wood. The full moon drifted in and out of the clouds, casting silvery light on the branches. My heart pounded like a drum and my knee shook like jelly, but I couldn't turn back. I had to find the gold ring I lost at the picnic, the ring my grandma gave me before she passed away.

All around me the trees towered like giants. The branches waved in the wind like bony fingers. Snapping branches sounded like a thousands gunshots.

I run as fast as a cheetah until I came to the clearing. I got down on my hands and knees and began to search for the ring. The full moon disappeared behind the trees. The night was dark as dark as the deepest well. I dug deeper at the frosty earth with my bare hands. Suddenly I felt something soft but cold. I shone my torch at the muddy earth. Then I screamed and jumped up, my face was as white as ghost. I looked down at the gruesome sight. It was a hand... a human hand!

20. How did the writer dig the earth searching for the ring?

- A. Making use of his torch.
- B. Asking for giants' help.

  - D. An obstacle will surely make us stronger.

The text is for questions 23 – 26.

It was a beautiful day today. As you know, I am not an early bird by nature; I thought I would laze in bed for a while, but mom told me to get up and not to laze the day away.

Reluctantly, I dragged myself out of bed, but only after mom promised to have breakfast ready for me very soon. Still feeling groggy, I tripped over Tita's doll and fell. I yelled out in pain and threw the doll through the door. Tita was coming through the door at the same time, but she managed to duck in the nick of time. However, the doll hit the passage wall and its head broke off. Tita then started to cry.

Mom came out of the kitchen and furiously reprimanded me for my bad temper. Feeling unhappy, I went to the bathroom to brush my teeth. While brushing my teeth, I was lamenting the unfortunate things that had happened when, all of a sudden, the toothbrush broke into two.

What a bad morning! I hope I will never have such a bad luck again.

Orchid is one of ornamental plants in the form of parasite. It has been known since 200 years ago but it has been cultivated in Indonesia since last 50 years. It is mostly found in the tropical area.

Based on the nature of their life, orchid can be divided into three groups, namely Ephytis, Semi Ephytis, and Terrestriis. Ephytis is the orchid which lives on other plants. Semi Ephytis is the orchid which lives on the other plants but do not damage the main plant. While Terrestrial is the orchid which grows on the ground.

Orchid has beautiful and unique flowers that are different from others. They are arranged as a compound system appearing from its stalk. The flower shapes as a bilateral symmetry. Its petals have the same color with the crown. The leaves are quite thick and usually elongated oval. Its thick leaves serve to store water. Its stem is jointed and thick. This stem is coated by wax layer which serves to prevent water evaporation. It has green fruit and shaped like a capsule. Inside its fruit, there are seeds which are very small and lightweight so they are easy to get carried away by the wind to the other places. The seed will only grow if it sticks in the appropriate media because it does not have a storage to keep reserved food.

Orchid will grow well when exposed to sufficient sunlight and have a lot of food sources. The media used to plant them are charcoal and brick for ephytis orchid and semi ephytis, compost and chaff for terrestrial orchids, while broken tiles and chaff are the media for semi terrestrial orchid.
